Kansas Association of Professional Electrologists

Code of Ethics

1. The electrologist shall treat clients honestly and with courtesy. Those seeking service will receive conscientious care, consideration and confidentiality. The electrologist shall present the facts of electrolysis fairly and without prejudice to every client.

2. The electrologist shall maintain the highest level of technical knowledge and skill on a continuing basis.

3. The electrologist shall properly sterilize and disinfect all equipment and at all times maintain strict hygienic and sanitary conditions to protect the health and well-being of the client and the electrologist.

4. The electrologist shall comply with all federal, state and local laws and regulations.

5. The electrologist shall uphold the highest standards with dignity and honor and seek to correct any violations within the profession.

1-1-2006